

Action On McLeish Is Held Up

First Senate Vote Results in Tie; Results Held Open For Those Absent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14—(P)—Senate Foreign Relations committee approval of the nominations of Archibald MacLeish and five other State Department appointees was indicated today when Senator Guffey (D-Pa.) suddenly switched his vote.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex) announced Guffey's changed position to a news conference in the committee room after receiving a hurried telephone call from the Pennsylvania senator.

The Guffey shift made the committee vote 11 to 9 for MacLeish, altering the 10 to 10 tie which had existed previously.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14—(P)—The Senate Foreign Relations committee approved today five of six State Department nominations but held up final action on Archibald MacLeish.

Senator Clark (D-Mo) told reporters that the committee had voted 10 to 10 on confirmation of MacLeish, named as assistant secretary of state.

Ordinarily a tie vote would defeat such a nomination but Clark said the result was held open until Senators Wagner (D-NY), Nye (R-ND) and Glass (D-Va.), who were absent, could record their choices.

When the question of MacLeish's confirmation originally was put, Clark said the committee, meeting in closed session, voted 12 to 8 for rejection.

The Missouri senator, who led the fight against MacLeish, present librarian of congress, said he then moved to make the roll call public.

When he did so, Clark said that Senators Murray (D-Mont) and Pepper (D-Fla.), who Clark said had voted against MacLeish, changed their vote to produce the 10 to 10 tie.

Five Approved

Nominations approved by the committee, and which probably will receive senate consideration tomorrow were:

Joseph C. Grew, under secretary of state, and four assistant secretaries — James C. Dunn, W. L. Clayton, Nelson Rockefeller and Brig. Gen. Julius Holmes.

Clark told reporters who gathered around him outside the committee room that he believed Wagner would support MacLeish and Nye would oppose him. He said that would leave the determining vote to Glass, who has been ill and unable to attend senate sessions for nearly two years.

The Missouri senator added that Chairman Connally (D-Tex) had attempted to cast Glass' proxy vote for MacLeish but that he, Clark, had challenged this action and it was withdrawn.

Clark said he contended that a proxy could not be cast unless the senator involved had specifically approved the action in advance, a circumstance he said he regarded as doubtful in the pending nomination.

Against Withdrawal

The vote on the nominations was taken only after Clark said the committee had defeated "by a substantial majority" a resolution by Senator Pepper, Murray, Guffey (D-Pa) and LaFollette (Prog-Wis) which would have requested President Roosevelt to withdraw all of the nominations.

Senator Clark, who left a closed-door meeting of the senate foreign relations committee, said veteran senator Hiram Johnson. (R-Calif) had questioned Dunn closely about policies of the state department. Dunn, long a state department official, was nominated for assistant secretary of state.

Clark told reporters he "could not make heads nor tails" of a report from Claude Bowers, former ambassador to Spain, which was discussed in secret session by Senator Guffey (D-Pa.).

Guffey previously referred to the document in question as a favorable report on the anti-Franco republican government at the time of the Spanish civil war. He said that never reached the president or the secretary of state.

Secretary of State Stettinius was present for the hearing as was Nelson Rockefeller, assistant secretary appointee, who was to be questioned later.

Railway Clerks Organized Here in 1899, Celebrate

George M. Harrison, Grand President of Railway Clerks, will be the principal speaker Saturday, December 16 at the celebration of the founding of the Brotherhood in Sedalia 45 years ago this month. The celebration is being held under the auspices of the Sedalia locals of the Brotherhood.

The celebration is of widespread interest to the labor movement in general because the union that was founded here 45 years ago has become the largest union of white-collar workers in the world. Starting out with less than a dozen members employed in the freight offices of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas and the Missouri Pacific Railroads at Sedalia, the Brotherhood now has 285,000 members. It bears the reputation of being one of the most progressive and best managed unions in the country.

Small Group Met

It was just a few days after Christmas in the year 1899—December 29th to be exact—that a small group of clerks accustomed to meeting in the evening at the little tobacco shop of E. T. Behrens on Engineer street decided to form a union. For years clerks had been the down-trodden and hapless victims of economic conditions. Wages were desperately low and clerks at that time were referred to as "white-collar slaves." But they had seen how employees in train service had improved their wages and conditions through collective bargaining and decided to follow their example. Today the members of the B. R. C. far exceed 25.

Americans Put Pressure on Japs at Ormoc

Great Numbers Are Being Killed In the Mountains

GEN. MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Philippines, Dec. 14—(P)—Great numbers of Japanese were being killed in the mountains east of captured Ormoc as the Americans on Leyte put the pressure on the south end of a trap in the bloody Ormoc corridor, headquarters reported today.

Other enemy troops drowned Tuesday night in a strange attempt to send three small freighters, loaded with soldiers, into Ormoc. The Japanese evidently were unaware the west Leyte port was in American hands but soon found out. Shore fire promptly sent all three to the bottom.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur said enemy losses on the ground were "extraordinarily heavy" as Seventh division Yanks, who helped take the important port on Sunday, pursued scattered Japanese "fighting desperately to free themselves over the mountain trails."

Americans of the 77th division regrouped at Ormoc and sent patrols north to probe the enemy's strength to the rear of the Yamashita line, while 32nd division forces, which have been battling the weather as well as stubborn Japanese for weeks, maintained a frontal pressure from the north.

Japanese Disorganized

Thousands of crack imperial troops are in the corridor, deprived of their principal reinforcement port of Ormoc. Their supplies now must come via a treacherous road from Palompon, a secondary seaport at best.

(NBC Correspondent Geo. Folster, broadcasting from Leyte, said Japanese ground forces on the island were "completely disorganized; they are scattering in all directions, have lost contact with their leaders, and this is the beginning of the end for the emperor's forces here in the Ormoc valley.")

(General Bruce already has started his troops northwards up the valley, at the same time that an American force is squeezing the Japs down from the north. The enemy is scattering into the mountains.)

Former Wife of 'Tarzan' Dies

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 14—(P)—The coroner's office announced that Lupe Velez, Mexican motion picture actress, was found dead early today in her home in Beverly Hills. Coroner Frank Vance quoted Beverly Hills police as saying that the actress apparently took an overdose of sleeping powder.

Officers said they found a note beside the body but they would not immediately disclose the content.

Miss Velez was 34 years old. She was known for tempestuousness on and off the screen. Her latest romance, with Harold Ramond, French actor, was broken off last week. A short time before she had announced she planned to marry him soon "because he is the only one who knows how to handle Lupe."

Miss Velez formerly was married to Johnny (Tarzan) Weissmuller.

Court Denies Dismissal Of Chaplain Paternity Case

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 14—(P)—Judge Henry M. Willis today denied a motion by Charlie Chaplin's counsel to dismiss Joan Berry's suit to have him named the father of her 14-month-old daughter, Carol Ann, on the defense contention that a stipulation when blood tests were made had outlawed further litigation.

St. Louis Millionaire Retired To Hotel Room Six Years Ago

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 14—(P)—Six years ago a St. Louis millionaire went into his hotel room, carefully closed the door behind him, and stayed there.

Since then he hasn't so much as gone into the corridor, and until a reporter for the St. Louis Globe-Democrat found him, in all that time he hadn't talked with a stranger.

Helmuth C. Setz, 53, son of a pioneer Missouri metallurgist, entered an exclusive hotel March 16, 1939. His brother, Carl Setz, said today that the prematurely gray chemist has kept to his single room ever since.

In the interview, Helmuth Setz said he had not become a recluse "from fear or dislike of people. Partially it's from desire to continue my chemical studies and research without intrusion." And he added:

Tokyo Radio Concedes Raids Are Serious, Yank Fliers Glad

21ST BOMBER COMMAND on island reports of the devastation wrought and Tokyo radio conceded the B-29 raids are "becoming serious."

(Before the first wave of the huge force of B-29s—Washington advices indicated 100 took part—left the target scene, pillars of smoke rose from the plant, largest of the vast Mitsubishi interests. It produces twin-engine bombers and navy fighters.)

Visibility was excellent. The big bombers flew 3,000 to 4,000 feet lower than they did over Tokyo. And a headwind slowed the approach. All these factors made for better bombing results.

Some B-29s were on their bombing runs for 20 minutes.

"Many bomb strikes have been obtained in the Mitsubishi (Hatsudoki) aircraft works," said General Hansell, who heads the 21st bomber command.

Extensive Damage

"Damage was quite extensive. I am not prepared to assess that damage until I have had a chance to study photographs but I think it's a good mission."

His caution perhaps was prompted by the fact that photographs of a Mitsubishi plant at Tokyo, made after recent raids there, showed some damage but insufficient to constitute a knock-out blow.

(Tokyo radio, however, quoted Dr. Masatsugu Suzuki head of Nippon's Civil Engineering association, as saying the raids already have prompted "large-scale removal work to the underground" of vital war plants.)

Capt. Leonard Cox, of Carnegie, Okla., whose Superfortress was among the first over Nagoya Wednesday said "We could see some (enemy) fighters taking off and much more flak than over Tokyo." Pilots said the enemy fighters were disinclined to risk the fire power of the superforts and kept their distance.

Allege Rent Overcharge

Asking treble damages for alleged overcharge of rentals to soldiers at the air base at Knob Noster, OPA on Wednesday, Dec. 13, filed suit against Leo Pace and Jacob L. Knaus of Knob Noster in federal court in Kansas City.

The petition alleges that Pace and Knaus, who operate an apartment house in a former hotel building at Knob Noster, overcharged Cpl. Walter Richter, Pfc. Maynard Allen, Cpl. F/O Clarence Rittman, Sgt. Maurice Stewart and Sgt. Robert Fresh for apartments rented to them for their families while stationed at the air field there. The total amount of treble damages asked in the petition is $620.55.

The petition alleges that the legal rate as set by the rent control office for the apartment rented to Richter is $7.00 per week and the soldier paid $40 per month. Allen was overcharged $6.00 a week, the petition alleges, Rittman $2.50 a week, Stewart and Fresh $5.00 a week.

Federal Land Bank Directors Meeting

The boards of directors and the secretary-treasurers of 19 national farm loan associations met in an all-day conference with officers of the Federal Land bank of St. Louis at the circuit court room in Sedalia today.

The national farm loan associations represented at the conference are farmers' cooperative organizations which make long-term Federal Land bank mortgage loans in 19 counties in west central Missouri.

National farm loan association secretaries in attendance were: H. L. Shirley, Sedalia; W. B. Sydnor, Lexington; Charles Danforth, Harrisonville; R. W. Troughner, Keytesville, and Frank Huston, Clinton. James A. Walker, secretary at Marshall, was unable to attend on account of illness.

St. Louis Millionaire Retired To Hotel Room Six Years Ago

"It's really difficult to give a concise reason for my withdrawal."

Would he ever leave his room? "Some time I might," he said.

Setz, a graduate of the University of California, led a normal, active life until he holed up in the hotel, his brother says. But "this is the type of life he chooses. We know he is happy."

Setz's food always is served by the same waiter. Neither says anything during the meals. His brother comes in once a week and he keeps abreast of current events by reading newspapers. He has no radio and never answers his telephone.

Hotel authorities, harassed with help shortages, say Setz asks for no special service, and declines many of the routine requests. "Really one of our best tenants,"

Churchill to Stand Firm, He Announces

Will Make no Change in Policy On Greece, Italy

LONDON, Dec. 4—(P)—Prime Minister Churchill, under continuing attack over Britain's policy in Greece and Italy, served notice today he was standing firm and might hit back in another address to the nation.

He opened an inconclusive Commons debate with a terse report that British casualties in Greece "since our landing this year" were about 460. Churchill did not make clear whether these included all casualties in the current fighting in Athens.

Under Laborite cross-questioning about what he had told Count Carlo Sforza concerning King Vittorio Emanuele, Churchill said he had approved a continuance of the Italian king's "regime until the military situation had got into a better condition."

The results were not "unsatisfactory as far as our armies are concerned," the prime minister added.

"Not The Type"

Sforza, whom Churchill previously described as "not the type of man" Britain wanted to deal with as Italian foreign minister, had said in Rome that the prime minister in 1943 brought "strong pressure" on him in behalf of Vittorio.

When Laborite Daniel Kirkwood said that he had been flooded with telegrams from workers threatening a work-stoppage protesting the government's policy in Greece, Churchill said:

"I could quite believe that Mr. Kirkwood would receive many telegrams from many parts of

On Enemy's Side Of Roer, Moving Between Hurtgen and Monschau Forests

By Edward Kennedy

PARIS, Dec. 14—(P)—The American First and Ninth armies have won a 14-mile stretch along the flooded Roer river from Linlich to a point 2,500 yards northwest of besieged Duren, it was announced today at supreme headquarters.

This placed the Americans within 20½ miles of Cologne, their nearest approach, at a point downstream from Duren, through which the river flows north toward the sea.

Twenty miles farther south, other units of the first army moving along both sides of the river near its source overran a fourth hamlet, Kesternich, in an advance of a mile or more.

By Edward Kennedy

PARIS, Dec. 14—(P)—The southern wing of the First army seeking conquest of the rolling Cologne plain advanced another mile today and overran a fourth hamlet near the upper Roer, where two almost forgotten divisions were fighting along both banks.

The village was Kesternich, 1½ miles west of the river and 20 miles from the major Rhineland traffic center of Euskirchen. Nearly all Germans had been cleared before noon. The town lies east of previously captured Rollesbroich, Bickerath and Simmerath.

Ninth army troops 20 miles to the north sprang into action and seized the Ende river town of Vichhofen, two miles south of Julich.

For once, the First army had bright sunny weather which promised help from the air in budging the stubborn Germans from their trenches and bunkers. The First army was on the enemy's side of the Roer headwaters in the area four miles southeast of Monschau, and moving between the Hurtgen and Monschau forests.

Advance to Suburbs

Before besieged Duren, Maj. Gen. Robert C. Macon's 83rd division advanced to the western outskirts of Gurzenich, a suburb of the city of 39,000 and only a few hundred yards from the flooded river.

(The German communique said the First army around Duren and Monschau lost 15 tanks and was "temporarily halted by our fire." The enemy broadcast added that "only after a new onslaught did they manage to penetrate into some villages.")

The U. S. Third army battered its way through 500 more yards of pillboxes in Endorf, strengthening its wedge in the Siegfried line at embattled Saarlautern. Indecisive fighting continued at the other Siegfried dent at Dillingen.

The Germans, however, appeared to be withdrawing artillery to deeper positions behind Saarlautern and Dillingen, indicating they expected a forced withdrawal deeper into the defenses which extend 30 miles to the Rhine.

35th Division Stayed

Nine miles southeast of the shell wrecked Saarland capital of Saarbrücken the Germans knocked out a footbridge at Haskirchen but failed to dislodge the 35th division from its latest foothold in Germany.

The U. S. Seventh army plunged clear through another section of the old Maginot line northwest of Bitche to Kappelhof, three and a half miles from the southeast corner of the Saarland and 12 miles south of the shell-torn Palatinate city of Zweibrücken.

Delay in State Vote Counting

JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 14—(P)—Missouri's official vote canvass won't be finished until December 28—or until Sullivan county finishes counting its disputed absentee votes, Secretary of State Gregory Stockard said today.

Stockard announced the postponement after receiving an opinion from the attorney general's office that as long as Sullivan county's absentee vote count is missing from official records, completion of the official tally must wait as long as allowed by law.

The law says the canvass must be made within 50 days after the election, which would be December 28.

Mrs. Katie Ragar of Hickory Point community and Walter Carpenter of La Monte were married Saturday evening in La Monte at the Methodist church by the Rev. Wesley Hampton.

The couple will reside on the farm of Mrs. Carpenter at Hickory Point.

The novelty of duo-piano music, presented by the Helen G. Steele Music club at Heard Memorial clubhouse Wednesday at 2:00 p. m., was heightened by the fact that the youthful performers, Floyd and Cloyd Chronister, of Kansas City, are twins. Sons of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Chronister, 520 South Lawndale, they are from the studio of Lois Black Hunt, Kansas City, where they have performed extensively.

After the business session, presided over by Mrs. E. F. Yancey, president, the piano team was introduced by Mrs. Fred Ross.

Playing together with "twin" coordination and a mature musicianship far exceeding their 15 years, the performers began their program with two brief Bach inventions, numbers 13 and 14, followed by the Allegro con Spirito and Rondo movements of the "Sonatina in D" by Clementi, securely establishing proof of their technical abilities. The "Concerto in E Flat" by Mozart, Allegro, Andante and Vivace movements, of delicate quality, concluded the first group which was followed by Duvernoy's "Rolling Fire" as an encore.

The song-like "Liebesleid" by Kreisler and the light, melodious "Frasquita Serenade" by Lehar led to Olesen's "Norwegian Petite Suite." With only an occasional flash of the haunting sort of beauty usually typifying Norwegian music, the composition is, in general, spirited, consisting of the forceful "Devils' Dance," a playful "Mazurka," a somewhat wistful "Serenade," a whirling "Humoreske" and the delicate, fluttering "Papillons" (butterflies). Appropriate to the snowy day, the boys played Burleigh's "Coasting" as the encore to this group.

The fiery Allegro and Con Brio movements of Williams' "Concerto in A Minor" were in contrast to the third movement, Largo, which was melodic and organ-like. The fourth movement, "A La Tarentella," concluded the selection in a strong, spirited manner. The last programmed composition, "Saramouche" by Milhaud, of the modern French school, was most stimulating. Consisting of three movements, Vif, Moderne and Brasileira, it embodied a repetitious octave theme, dissonants and syncopation.

Deti's lively "Juba Dance" and Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever" were used as encores, and, in answer to request, "Rolling Fire" was repeated.

Mrs. James Wergin was elected as treasurer of the Sedalia Office.

Charter, Lost and Found, to be Presented

ceeds that of any other railway labor organization, and wages and conditions of the clerical and station service employees have been vastly improved.

As the years passed the charter, which was Sedalia Lodge No. 1, was misplaced. Local members later became interested to see the Charter and a search for it was made to no avail. About a year ago H. M. Brown, chief clerk at the local Missouri-Kansas-Texas freight depot was looking for some old papers in an old storage file, and neatly tucked away between other papers was found the charter which had been missing for many years. Mr. Brown explained it had probably been placed there by the late Mark Antes, then Chief Clerk, for safe keeping.

Original Charter
This original charter will be presented to President Harrison at the meeting to be held Saturday night, to be taken to the Grand Lodge at Cincinnati, Ohio, to be placed among the permanent records.

Preceding the public meeting to begin at 8 o'clock Saturday night at the State Guard Armory, Ninth street and Ohio avenue, a banquet will be held at 6:30 o'clock at the Christian church. Those to attend the banquet will be the visiting officials of the organization, members and guests, and it will be informal.

Two living charter members of the little group which organized the union will be present at the banquet and meeting, and who will be seated at the speakers table are F. H. Miller and F. O. Withers. The organizer of the original lodge E. T. Behrens, and the organizer of the reorganized local in 1918, Edward P. Mullaley, will also be present and seated with President Harrison.

President Harrison is highly esteemed not only by the membership of the B. R. C., but by the entire labor movement. He is regarded as one of the ablest labor executives and most effective spokesmen for working people in the country. He served as chairman of the Railway Labor Executives' Association (an association of the standard railway labor organizations) for a period of 7 years. Under his leadership some of the most important labor measures were enacted by Congress, including the Amended Railway Labor act, the Railroad Retirement and Unemployment Insurance Acts, and the so-called Washington Agreement between the unions and American Railways, under which employees are protected with severance benefits in consolidations. He was also a member of the committee of labor and management appointed by the President of the United States to investigate the railway industry, whose recommendations formed the basis of the Transportation Act of 1940. He is a vice president of the American Federation of Labor and has represented the United States Government on special assignments in this country and abroad.

The local committee on arrangements for the celebration is composed of Ted Willis, chairman, Frank Hanigan, A. F. Scott, C. L. Elliott, and H. M. Brown.

How to Find Out What is for Sale

Want to buy a new mattress, a steam shovel or a gallon of castor oil? These and millions of other "surplus" properties are now being sold by your government to the public. Many of the surplus articles are new, others slightly used. They are for sale because the government over bought or because of changes in military requirements.

If you want to know what is for sale you should ask for a free subscription to the "Surplus Reporter," a little magazine published by the Office of Surplus Property in the treasury department. You can get this interesting publication sent to you upon request directed to Merchandising and Sales Division, Procurement Division, Treasury Department, 2605 Walnut street, Kansas City, Missouri. Any merchant, doctor or other citizen in position to use any of this property would do well to write asking to be put on the mailing list of the "Surplus Reporter," covering merchandise in which he is interested.

Dari Ann says

You don't have to be an expert cook to make delicious yeast rolls if you use DARI-CRAFT Evaporated Milk. My recipe is so simple and such fun to do. For a one o'clock luncheon, make them at eight, and for a six o'clock dinner, set them at one. Here's exactly how to make them.

Quick Rolls
3/4 cup DARI-CRAFT
3/4 cup water
1 cake yeast
1 tablespoon shortening
1 tablespoon sugar
1 1/2 teaspoon salt
4 cups flour (more or less)

Heat DARI-CRAFT and water until lukewarm. Dissolve yeast in 1/2 cup of this warm milk. Heat balance of DARI-CRAFT and water to scalding point, but do not boil. Add shortening, sugar and salt. Mix well, then add the dissolved yeast mixture. Add 2 cups of the flour. Cool about 30 minutes. Work in enough of the remaining 2 cups of flour or more until you have a soft ball of dough that can be handled easily, but not dry. Toss on a floured board and knead well. Grease dough on all sides, place back in bowl and cover with clean towel and let rise to double its bulk, or about 3 hours. Roll 1/3 inch thick, cut with biscuit cutter, dip in melted butter, and place in pans. Cover with the cloth, set in warm place and let rise until ready to bake. Bake in hot oven (400°) for 15 minutes.

Of course, it's the DARI-CRAFT that makes them so light and fluffy and so inexpensive (no eggs and so little shortening). Any amateur can do them. Get some DARI-CRAFT Evaporated Milk today and try them. Your family and friends will be astonished at the results.

The Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

by DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—The controversial question of ceiling prices on cattle on the hoof was postponed before election, but is now due for a real showdown. Behind this are strikes by small meat packers in New York and New Jersey, plus increasing strikes by meat dealers. If the question is not settled, the entire meat price structure is faced with complete breakdown.

Bringing the question to a head, OPA administrator Chester Bowles sent economic stabilizer Vinson and war food administrator Jones emphatic demands for setting of ceiling prices on live cattle. He told them bluntly that if this is turned down the price control of meat will no longer be possible.

Difficulty is that there is strict price control on slaughtered meat, from the slaughterer through the retailer. But there is no ceiling on live cattle. Meat packers claim that they have to pay so much for live cattle that there is no margin of profit if they sell within the ceiling price.

Farmers, however, claim that there is something wrong some place, because they are not getting enough for live cattle to pay for feed. The meat packer claims he has to pay eighteen and one-half cents a pound for live cattle, but receives only twenty-one to twenty-three cents a pound from the army—which leaves no profit for him. However, farmers claim that instead of receiving eighteen and one-half cents a pound on the hoof, the net price paid them by the slaughterers runs several cents less.

Most meat packers claim they are selling at a loss. What they don't admit, however, is that some of them sell the meat which they don't sell to the army to civilians in the black market. About 60 per cent of their choice cuts go to the army and about 40 per cent of their choice cuts are left over for civilians.

Meanwhile, the small butchers, forced to stick to ceiling prices, cannot afford to buy black market meat and are up against it.

This is the knotty problem which OPA boss Chester Bowles has dropped in the lap of food administrator Jones and price stabilizer Vinson.

Ham Fish's Swan Song

Ham Fish's swan song to his congressional colleagues was well advertised in advance. For several hours the Republican cloakroom had buzzed with talk about how the famous New York lame-duck from FDR's own district would explode a bombshell. Republican expectations soared. Their side of the aisle was packed, breathless to hear Fish charge the White House with high treason, vote stealing or something equally heinous.

Then Fish dropped his bombshell—an attack on the titular head of the Republican party, Thomas E. Dewey.

Capitol Chaff

Despite the terrific manpower shortage, the U. S. employment service is certifying many job applicants to the census bureau for work instead of to war plants. . . . One reason why Nelson Rockefeller may be having so little trouble getting appropriations is the fact that Budget Director Harold Smith's wife is on the payroll of Rockefeller's office of coordinator of inter-American affairs. . . . First things Ed Stettinius did after getting his new post was to call his wife, then tell his staff what happened and then order Secretary Hull's office completely repainted and redecorated. . . . Stettinius also ordered the removal of Hull's aspistras plants which lent an early Victorian atmosphere to the ex-secretary's inner sanctum. . . . The group which knows most about the inner workings of the state department personnel are nurses who do first aid in the dingy state department health room. They handle everything from the secretaries' sore throats to messengers' stubbed toes. . . . Principal keepsake Cordell Hull will take from the department is his swivel chair which traditionally is given each outgoing secretary.

U. S. Boss of Near East?

Gen. Benjamin Franklin Giles, the U. S. army's gift to the Near East, has issued an order banning state department, UNRRA, FEA, and other U. S. civilian officials from coming in through the front door of his Cairo headquarters. All U. S. civilian officials were ordered to use the back entrance.

When state department officials squawked the order was finally rescinded.

General Giles also banned civilians as patients in the army hospital for a while, forced UNRRA to set up its own clinic in Cairo to take care of American government employees who became ill. Most distressing single morale-breaker imposed on civilians by Giles was an order preventing them from using the army postal service to send and receive mail. This meant Americans in Cairo had to wait for the painfully slow regular mail service to hear from home. After enough protests came into Washington, civilian agencies put pressure on the army, finally got the order revoked.

Note—General Giles is the man who ordered U. S. newsmen not to cable home anything critical of the British, especially during the early stages of the Greek-British crisis. That was one reason why the American public got news of the Greek turmoil with such a thud. Actually it had been brewing for some time.

Democrats Look Ahead to '46

Democratic leaders have been telling Democratic chairman Bob Hannegan that he will occupy one of the toughest spots in public life for the next two years. While their tone is semi-joking when they say this, actually they are in dead earnest. Hannegan's job will be to prevent the backsliding of 1938 and 1942 when the congressional elections came up two years hence.

He will have a good deal more help in the job than his predecessors, just as he had a good deal more help in the recent presidential election. Democratic politicians, no matter how they feel personally about Sidney Hillman, admit privately that, without the aid of the PAC and other strong independent committees, including Leon Henderson's independent progressive committee, a Republican congress would have been elected and perhaps a Republican president.

Party machinery, they admit, did not function well throughout the campaign, they were constantly dissatisfied with the operation of the national committee; and the meetings of the senate and house campaign groups were the scene of constant crabbing about poor publicity. But now that the election is over, the bitterness is disappearing, with veteran solons willing to charge it off to inexperience.

Hannegan will work now to develop a network of local Democratic groups which will see to it that registration for voting is built up in 1946 and that the vote aims for another Democratic house. There are even hopes that the senate majority will be increased, with tough fights looming for Republicans Butler of Nebraska, Johnson of California, Shipstead of Minnesota, Vandenberg of Michigan, Willis of Indiana, and Progressive Bob La Follette of Wisconsin.

From a Wine Cookbook

To give your holiday turkey its full splendor, roast it with wine as we suggest here.

Then serve the same wine at the table to enjoy a further taste harmony. Serve Burgundy or Claret at room temperature... Sauterne or Rhine Wine, well-chilled.

Wine-Basted Turkey

When roasting, baste the turkey with warm table wine mixed with oil or margarine—about ¼ cup wine to ¼ cup oil. Use a California Burgundy, Claret, Sauterne or Rhine Wine.

Remember, too, that wine makes a welcome and useful gift. See your dealer's fine choice of California wines today! Wine Advisory Board, 85 Second Street, San Francisco 5.

Knotty Problem For Donnell

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Dec. 14.—(P)—A knotty problem—whether to resign the Missouri governorship a few days early or be late to his induction as a U. S. senator—is furrowing the brow of Gov. Forrest C. Donnell these days.
Here's his situation:
His term as governor expires Jan. 8. The new senate convenes five days before that.
Donnell said today he was giving "serious consideration" to the puzzle, but hadn't decided yet what to do.
It's a brand new problem in Missouri, because no other governor of this state ever moved directly from the executive office to the U. S. capitol.
If Donnell should resign, Lt. Gov. Frank G. Harris, a Democrat would finish out the Republican governor's term.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES
This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief
Many sufferers relieve nagging backaches quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Boston Artist Runs Factory In Belgium

Fifty Belgian Women Under His Supervision

By Hal Boyle

IN BELGIUM, Dec. 14.—(P)—You would think it was the GI idea of heaven to work in a nice warm factory and boss 50 girls around—but Pfc. Nathaniel Jacobson has such a job and is willing to swap, with no questions asked.
This 28-year-old Boston artist is probably the only American enlisted man overseas who is running a clothing factory. And the tall, dark haired soldier is anxious to shed his distinction.
"I never even worked in a clothing factory before—never wanted to," said Jacobson, looking with a frown about the low-ceilinged white-walled room in which half a hundred Belgian women under his supervision were chattering like magpies. "And here I am running one. You sure do strange things in the army."

But the first army camouflage unit of which he is a member is used to filling strange requests. Jacobson drew his assignment when his outfit was ordered to provide thousands of emergency snowsuits for Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' frontline troops.
Regular army snowsuits hadn't arrived when the first snow fell. Combat men found their olive drab uniforms stood out against the white landscape, making them splendid targets.

Within 36 hours Lt. Col. Robert E. Kearney, Hollywood, Cal., commander of the camouflage unit and former motion picture director had the first snowscape off the production line.
He had white muslin flown from England and borrowed white engineer tape to use in place of buttons. His supply officer, Capt. Anthony L. Mondello, New York City, rented a factory, located needed thread and hired the girls.
Then Jacobson was made the factory boss.

Four girls cut the muslin into patterns and send them to a sewing room where other girls finish the snowsuits under the watchful eye of Pfc. Jacobson. The first day the unwilling supervisor and his 50 chattering maidens turned out 250 capes.
Jacobson ironed out the production kinks and gradually stepped up the output—each cape costing Uncle Sam less than 50 cents each.

"I got this job—which I don't like—because I had picked up some French out of phrase books and was able to tell the girls what we wanted done," said Jacobson.

Like American Girls
"These girls are just like American girls. They never stop talking. And the way they spend their money! One girl just paid 900 francs for a pair of shoes—three weeks salary for one pair of shoes!"

"They have been going to some American army dances. That's what they talk about most all day long. They are envious of American girls because they heard American girls could go to dances alone. Here, even if she is 25 years old, a girl can't go to a dance unless her parents come along, too."

Jacobson looked moodily around at the happy, humming girls.
"I am a happily married man—this is no place for me," he said. "They should put a single man on this job. But I guess that's why they put me here—because I am an old married man—and not a wolf."

His assistant, Pvt. Donavin Macomber, a husky trooper from Radcliff, O., glanced over the busy workroom, whistled a few bars and said more cheerfully:
"Well, so we got to work in a roomful of girls. It ain't so bad. I can think of a lot worse ways to win the war."

Insurance Paid After Long Search

WARRENSBURG, Mo., Dec. 14.—(P)—Payment of $659 Tuesday to Mrs. Emma M. Bruch, 81, Warrensburg, ended a 15-year search by a New York insurance company for the beneficiary of an insurance policy issued in 1869 on the life of her father, Francis J. Niemoller, then a teacher at Rich Fountain, Mo. Niemoller died in 1902.
The policy became paid up in 1875, after which the insurance company lost contact with Niemoller, whose last address known to them was Platte City, Neb. In 1929 when, if living, he would have been 96 years old, the company started an investigation, but Mrs. Bruch was only recently located. She had no record of the policy and the company had not been notified of her father's death in 1902.

Pedestrians To Signal Before Making Turn
TORONTO, Dec. 14.—(P)—Toronto pedestrians now must walk on the right side of the sidewalk—and give a hand signal before turning.

Running for a street car also is forbidden by the new pedestrian traffic laws passed by the city and approved today by George H. Doucett, Ontario minister of highways.

Looking Backward Forty Years Ago

The auction sale of old maids, held under the auspices of Queen City Grove No. 1, Woodmen's Circle, at the hall of K. of P. lodge No. 52, last night was one of the most successful lodge entertainments ever held in the city both socially and financially. J. M. DeJarnett acted as auctioneer and the demand for old maids exceeded the supply. The prices ranged from twenty to fifty cents each, according to the fancy of the bidders. Several gentlemen were put on the block but they met a slow sale and brought poor prices.

The city council met last night at 7 o'clock in regular session, Mayor J. L. Babcock presiding and all of the aldermen were present. An ordinance accepting the curbing on Osage avenue and providing for the payment of the same was adopted. An ordinance granting a franchise to the Sedalia and Warrensburg Interurban Electric railway to construct, operate and to maintain an electric railway through the city from the eastern city limits on East Fourth street to the western city limits at Second and thence to Warrensburg, was adopted by an unanimous vote.

Bricklayers Union No. 14, of this city, will give their first grand ball at Liberty Park on New Year's eve. The Second Regiment orchestra will furnish the music.

Master Byrnes McGinley fell while at play yesterday and it was feared at first that he had sustained a fracture of the nose, but investigation revealed to the contrary. It was a hard jolt, though, and his nose is badly swollen today.

Firm In Position On Postmaster

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—(P)—The senate's action in rejecting the nomination of Mrs. Rachel McCracken as postmaster at Galt, Mo., is final so far as Senator Truman (D-Mo.) is concerned he said Wednesday.

A petition signed by 221 Galt citizens, asking Truman to withdraw his objection to her nomination was placed before the senator today.

"This is just a tempest in a teapot," Truman told a reporter. "It has been handled just the same as any other postmaster nomination and there is nothing unusual about it. As far as I am concerned it is finished and I will not reopen it. That is definite and final."

Truman said it had been his long-time policy to receive recommendations on postmaster appointments from Democratic county chairmen. His aides asserted that Mrs. McCracken was a Republican and that the senator had received no recommendation from the Democratic chairman in her county.

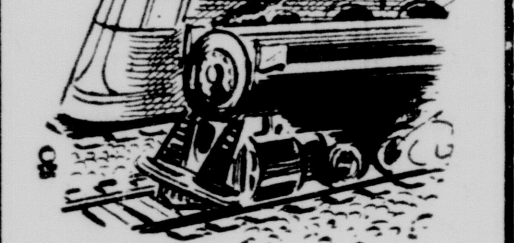

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

OUR RAILROAD—PLUS COAL—ARE DOING A GREAT JOB

About 1/3 of all coal that was mined was used by railroads to move freight passengers and soldiers. They'll need plenty more before the war is won, so don't waste a single pound.

Hot Debate Over Criticism Of Two Allies

Critics Arced Of Talk That "Might Prolong The War"

By Howard Fieger

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—(P)—Congress rang with loud and angry debate over criticism of Britain and Russia Wednesday, with administration supporters accusing the critics of "careless talk" which might prolong the war.

On the house side, a razor-edged exchange was touched off by a Pennsylvania congressman's attack on Prime Minister Churchill and British draft policies.

Churchill, declared Rep. Gavin (R-Pa.), "seems content to let us throw thousands of our boys into action to carry on the fight, hundreds of whom are liquidated every day."

Up leaped Rep. Luther A. Johnson, Texas Democrat, shouting "the gentlemen have rendered a disservice to his country and to the Allies."

Statements like Gavin's "should be suppressed," Johnson declared, adding that "they are calculated to promote disunity, prolong the war and encourage Hitler."

Accused Of Nagging
In the ensuing general debate, Democrats accused Republicans of nagging at the war effort and Republicans said Democrats spurn "constructive criticism" for political reasons.

During the height of the house argument, Senator Brooks (R-Ill.) took the floor in the senate to criticize both Britain and Russia for current political clashes in Europe.

America is sending her sons to push the Germans back, Brooks said, while both Britain and Russia are "engaging in a race for the future balance of power on the European continent."

Brooks declared Russia intends to extend her philosophy throughout the Balkans and Britain wants to set up puppet governments in Italy, Greece, Belgium and France. He demanded immediate clarification of the United States' foreign policy.

At one point, Gavin told the house that "British colonies are now just getting around to enacting legislation to draft men for overseas service."

Majority Leader McCormack (D-Mass.) told the Republicans his side welcomed "constructive criticism" but said both parties should

Pilfered Cigarettes And Lands In Jail

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 14.—(P)—A man who was given all the cigarettes he wanted to smoke while working at a cigarette factory and was permitted to take home five packs a week was sentenced to serve from 60 days to six months in county jail Wednesday when he pleaded guilty to pilfering 35 additional packages.
Judge Francis F. Birch told Jack De Bona "what you were allowed ought to have been enough for any man. It's hard enough to get one pack, let alone 35."

"Use prudence in criticizing the Allies."

"The gentleman from Pennsylvania did nothing worse than to tell the truth," came back Rep. Fish (R-NY), a frequent critic of the administration.

Gavin, called upon the state department to "tell the British empire that we are not satisfied with their policy of the conscription of men in the British colonies."

"If we can draft our boys by the thousands for overseas service," he asked, "why can't the British colonies do likewise? The prime minister and the foreign secretary can get tough with Uncle Sam when they feel the British empire is not getting the breaks."

Attempting to choke off the angry debate Rep. Bulwinkle, North Carolina Democrat, declared Gavin had his facts wrong and said the Pennsylvania would never have made the speech had he known the truth about British conscription policies.

Girls In Old Time Square Dances

Eight old-time selections for square dancing were presented by a large number of students of Miss Audrey Salzer's fourth hour physical education class at the junior high school assembly in the auditorium Wednesday morning. Alameda Albertson was the caller of the dances and Joan Rosenthal accompanied them on the piano.
"Boogie Woogie" added a most modern touch to the last piece, as the girls showed how closely related the modern steps are to the less used square dance. Most of the dances were in quadrilles. The girls have been studying folk and square dances recently under the direction of Miss Salzer.

Girls, acting the part of the boys, and dressed accordingly in shaggy pants with large red and black checkered shirts with the shirt-tails hanging free adding humor, gaiety and color to the show.
